User story

Bug #940365

As a user, I want the option to remove the original content from an email reply. This will help decrease the size of emails and allow me to avoid re-sending email content that I don't want to send.

1. When replying to an email I have the option to remove the original message content from the reply.
2. Selecting this option removes all the original message content from the reply.
3. If I have added my own content it is preserved.
4. All receipts are left intact if the original message content is discarded.

Bug #940366

As a user, I want to configure my phone to never attach the original message body when replying to an email. This will help me avoid sending content that I do not want to send.

1. A setting exists to allow the user to configure whether the original content is added to replies or not.
2. Setting the switch to send original message results in the original message being appended to an email reply
3. Setting the switch to not-send results in nothing being appended to the email reply.
